

Empathetic by having an understanding of the emotional aspects school experience can have on the student

"The teacher really understood the emotional pressure and heavy workload that student teachers experience and really helped me cope with this" (BEd 2 Student)

"She (the teacher) often showed empathy in terms of workload and always seemed to remember and take into consideration her experience as a student teacher" (BEd 4 Student)