

Sympathetic to the practical and emotional needs that face the student, remembering your own training

"One child found it difficult to adjust to me in the classroom. She (the teacher) reassured me and was sympathetic when this child simply ignored me or misbehaved when I was taking the group" (BEd 3 Student)

"She (the teacher) was extremely understanding about the way in which student teachers feel and about the difficult time which school experience can be" (BEd 4 Student)
